

In 1869 the Council of the Vatican (Vatican 1) declared:

We teach and define as a divinely revealed dogma that when the Roman pontiff speaks EX CATHEDRA, that is, when,

in the exercise of his office as shepherd and teacher of all Christians, in virtue of his supreme apostolic authority, he defines a doctrine concerning faith or morals to be held by the whole Church,

he possesses,

by the divine assistance promised to him in blessed Peter, that infallibility which the divine Redeemer willed His Church to enjoy in defining doctrine concerning faith or morals.

Therefore, such definitions of the Roman pontiff are of themselves, and not by the consent of the church, irreformable.

THE POSTMODERN "CHRISTIAN"

Hey, you're not hearing me you fighting fundy with your worship of the Bible! I'm telling you that truth is a plurality that's always evolving so we can't really know for sure what the Bible means. All I know is that you're wrong to be so absolute in your beliefs.

A testimonial

“Just a note to say how delighted I am to have discovered your inspirational website today. I am a 71-year-old retired Christian pastor from a conservative denomination. Since my retirement I have become strongly attracted to alternative spiritual paths, especially Wicca, that revere nature and strive for peace and love of the environment. I am especially happy to have learned that deity has a feminine aspect, and I feel very liberated and uplifted intellectually and emotionally, as well as spiritually, by that knowledge. I am happy to have discovered you. You seem to have grasped the truth that the teachings of Jesus can inspire us not only to have a deep respect for other people’s religious traditions, but to actually incorporate many aspects of those religious traditions into our own spiritual life. I am, of course, still a novice in my understanding of the wonderful alternative spiritual paths that I never really acknowledged before. I think that your website can be of great help to me. Thank you and blessings on your ministry.”
